About the Institute:

Indian Institute for Production Management, Popularly known as iiPM Kansbahal is a distinguish corporate promoted Techno - Managerial Institute of the country, which has always set a new benchmarking in the field of Training, Education, Research and CBM which is only replicated by others. It is still leading in Training, Education and Research & CBM sectors through its unmatched expertise, experience for over three decades and dedicated team players. It's in early 80's when business and industry had just realized that “Training is not a cost, it is an investment” and education sector was feeling the germane of global standards, iiPM show its first light in a small, yet significant place called Kansbahal on 24 October 1983 in the landscape of mineral rich Sundargarh District, near Rourkela (Industrial capital of Odisha). The distinguished corporate houses along with the State Government are its promoters which includes ICICI Bank, Larsen and Turbo Limited (L&T). SAIL and Usha Martin have supported the ambition with full of their spirit. The campus is of 37 acres of lush green area and hilly view creates an ambience for vibrant learning environment.

The Institute has moved a long way imparting training to the foremen, techno-managerial solutions to the Industry and Business as a whole. The organization spreads its wing to a complete Training, Research (CBM) and Education hub and renamed as Indian Institute for Production Management (iiPM) in the year 1995. The institute has been transformed itself to the most preferred solution for up-keeping their Man & Machine since last thirty seven years.
